VOL. 25.

RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA, SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 27, 1886.

NO. 77.

David Davis, who died at his home in Bloomington, Illinois, yesterday morning, was born in Cecil county, Maryland, March 9, 1815. He was admitted to the bar and settled in Bloomington, Illinois, in 1835, where he has resided since. He was a member of the State Legislature in 1884, a member of the Constitutional Convention in 1847, Judge of the Eighth Judicial Circuit Court from 1848 to 1862, when he was appointed Judge of the United States Supreme Court by President Lincoln, in which position he served till he resigned to accept the position of United States Senator, as which he served one term.

Ex-Mayor Jacobs, of Louisville, Kentucky, who has represented the United States at Colombia for several months, but is home on a vacation, is willing to utilize his diplomatic experience at Teheran. The State Department is so disgusted with ex-Minister Winston that it is very much inclined to leave the Persian mission vacant. The Colombian mission pays $2,000 a year, just balf the Persian emoluments.

Northern Lander—Its Future Prospects.

The Battle Mountain Central Nevadan says. There is not a locality in the State of Nevada that has a better prospect for the future than the northern end of Lander county. Though it scarcely represents half the population, it is equal to over half the amount of wealth. Battle Mountain is populated with a class of Mountain is populated with a class of complished in Washington this session was the obtaining of the order for the was the obtaining of the order for the repening of that class have become wealthy by the natural growth of their stock and the increase of value on their lands.

The present many mail istration has cut off a great many mail routes, the loss of which was severely country. Most of these men came here felt. I had many interviews with the Postmaster-General and others where The wealth of those people amounts to poor and have by their own exertious accumulated money enough to make them comfortable for the balance of having restored to bi-weekly or daily, as their lives. Among this class we reckon the needs of the people required. That, G. W. Cram, J. A. Blossom, A. D. Lemaire, A. Layton, D. McIntyre and Lem Egoff; aside from these gentlemen Wm. Dunphy and Russell & Bradley who are not residents of the county, where level interest in both land and rest deal of trouble in the matter, but own large interests in both land and stock that is assessable here. In conrection with the agriculture and stock interests of this locality there are innumerable mines of both gold and silver, that have, and will add greatly to the wealth of the country.

Lewis, a mining camp situated twelve miles southeast of this place, has produced and promises to produce large amounts of gold and silver bullion. The old Starr & Grove, Eagle and Betty O'Nesl mixes have in the past contrib-uted largely to the bullion product, while at the present the Pittsburg Consolidated is adding its mite and has in the last two years shipped over $100,-000 in gold bullion and still shows a large ledge of ore with more than thribble that amount in sight. To the southwest lies the beautiful little mining fown of Galena, that has in the past done the present rich in the precious metals. Then again there was au injustice in the matter of freights. The depositor of bullion at the Carson Mint was charged freight on the bullion to camp, among which we remember the Humbug, owned by B. F. Wilson, (a cold wire) the Drickell wire and refer the matter that the coin back to Nevada. I think I have made a successful fight against this Humbug, owned by B. F. Wilson, (a gold mine), the Driscell mine and various other properties owned by Mellander, Meager, Jolien, O'Leary and others. All the mines mentioned in these two districts are only partially developed, which indicates that their future will be much better than their past. With those matters in view the people of our little community have cause to be entitled to the community have cause to be entitled. I think I have made a successful fight against this unjust discrimination."

"Is that all the work that has been accomplished for Nevada?"

"No, not all. We are to have a new building for the Postoffice and Federal Courts at Carson; at least provision was made for it last year, but a site was selected on the top of a hill away from the business part of the city. I did a good deal of work about that, and a site has now been purchased right in the little community have cause to be encouraged and congratulate themselves Hereafter, with the country continuing in its present was a state working plans come from Washington, Altogether I feel very well satisfied with I have been able to do, and I think the people of my State are also satisfied with what I have accomplished."

Washington for Nevada.

S. F. Chronicle, 25th.

Senator James G. Fair, of Nevada, arrived in the city yesterday after an absence of nearly five months at Washington, where he has been attending the session of the United States Senate. A Chronicle reporter who called on him at his office, 230 Montgomery street, found his office, 200 alongomery street, found him engrossed in the peruval of a mass of letters and documents which have been waiting his arrival, but he courteously laid aside his personal matters to accord a few minutes' conversation to the reporter.

"I suppose," said the visitor, "that the most important work which you ac-complished in Washington this session the service had been reduced to a weekly service, I succeeded after much labor in I think, was the most important work I accomplished."

I saw every member of the Committee on Ways and Means and finally succeeded in getting an appropriation of $114,500 for the purpose. It has passed the House and it will undoubtedly go through the Senate in a few days."

But the matter of a few appointments is small compared to the convenience that it will be to the producers of bullion. It is hoped that the next nominees Messrs, Murray, Randolph, Barter and for President will both be in favor of silver; or that one will at least, and that he may be elected. The voters of the silver-producing States and Territories, ernor but one was of that party, and if they consult their own interests, will there is a fair prospect of the election of vote for the man who favors the coinage of silver.

A FAMOUS GOLD MINE

What He Mas Accomplished at The Idaho of Grass Veiley Pays 1:8 ooth Monthly Dividend.

> The Idalio Mining Company, of Grass Valley, Cal., paid its 200th monthly divideud June 7, a greater number than paid by one property in the annals of mining on the American continent or perhaps in the history of the world. The ore from the Idaho is exclusively gold-bearing. The first dividend was declared in 1869. The total gold product since that date exceeds $8,000,000, and the dividends paid foot up over $3,700,000, or over $1,200 per share on the 3,100 shures of capital stock of the original par value of $100 per share. During that period the mine has been opened down to the 16th level, which is 2,200 feet on the incline, and 1,600 feet in perpendicular depth, and the shaft is now being sunk for the 17th level. A remarkable feature of the mine is that the lode has carried but one pay chute, bearing eastward, and all the levels of the mine below the No. 7 have been driven eastward, as all the pay has been in that direction. The pay chute has varied in width and value; some of the levels have been driven 1,200 feet through pay ore; but the ore was not always of high grade, although seldom so poor as not to leave a margin of COINAGE MATTERS.

The San Francisco Call says: There is some ground for the assertion of Congressman Kenna that the present adminstration is not as favorable to silver as the preceding one. some reason or other the coinnge of silver at the San Francisco Mint has been stopped. As the Pacific Coast is the only part of the Union where silver is in general circulation, and where change for a dollar is made in silver, one would suppose that the San Francisco Mint would be the senree of the supply of this coin. Instead, the Mint is employed to about one ball its capacity in coining gold. One way to make silver uppopular is to continue com in circula-tion until it is worn out or mutilated, then make the holder stand the loss of the difference between its value as coin and its value as silver. The Government assumes the duty of providing the people with owin, and a decent regard for justice should provide against a loss to the people it intends to serve. The subsidiary silver is coined at reduced weight for reasons sufficient at one time to issue this underweight silver coin, but it refuses to receive it when it is worn or defuced, thus compelling the holder to stand the loss not only of the wear, but the loss of the difference, as we have said, between the value the Government stamped upon all the coin and its values as bullion. There is something approaching a downright cheat in this arrangement. For example, the Government issues a graphy-five cant piece which as bullion. twenty-five cent piece, which as bullion, at the dollar standard, is worth only twenty coats. In the course of time the wear takes away another per cent. of the weight. When this worn coin has been kept in service as long as possible, and is at last thrown out, the last holder not only loses the five cents all other holders had contributed to the loss other holders had contributed to the loss, of, but the five cents that the Government did not put in it. The worn and mutilated coin will only bring its value as old silver. The depreciation, as compared to gold, of silver adds to the loss. The coin is issued at its legal value, which is twenty per cent. greater than its market value. When it is worn out, or from other cause be-comes unfit for circulation, it is thrown upon the holder's hands at its bullion value. Probably there is no design in this to make silver unpopular. Such vatue. Propagy there is no design in this to make silver unpopular. Such design would border so closely upon criminality that we refrain from entertaining it. But it is clearly the business of the Treasury Department to unpurstant the pressured the pressured washing of its ness of the Treasury Department to the deviated the practical working of its orders, and to abstain from practices which resemble fraud, even when no fraud is intended. The mints are supported by a tax on the people, and should be so conducted as to supply the people with coin in commercial denomtions and in reasonable quantities without a special tax on individuals. As the business is now conducted, the man who receives a worn com which be cannot pass is practically fined nearly one-half its original value for his good one-mail its original value for his good nature in receiving it. There is, of course, no absolute standard which shows when a coin is worn past the point of use. One drus takes coin that another firm would refuse to take. Banks, which receive money in exchange and make small profits on the change and make small profits on the money handled, are more particular than managers of a business in which the profits are large. But if the mints received coins at their nominal value, returning new for old, coin would be re-But if the mints

Parnell had decided to ran Irish Protestant candidates in Ulster wherever the Nationalists are a good half of the population. In some of the constituencies for which the Nationalists are sitting, or had been selected to run against the Tories or Unionists, Parnell has resolved to withdraw his own followers in favor of the Irish Protestant candidates who have embraced home rule. This is one of the most diplomatic moves of the campaign. Parnell has thus made sure of two additional seats, with good prospects of others.

Tardy Cabinet Officers Received With a Rebuke.

Washington, June 25th.—Yesterday was Cabinet meeting day. Promptly uoon the President walked into the Cabnet room where were present Secretaries Endicott and Whitney and Assistant Secretary Fairchild. The President looked at the empty chairs belonging to Messrs, Lamar, Garland and Vilas, and said to those present: "Gentlemen it is time for the Cabinet to assemble. There will be no Cabinet meeting to-day, as I have more argent business to attend to, and I judge by the absence of some of the Cabinet that they have also." Mr. Cleveland then instruced Colonel Lamont to notify the tardy members of his decision. They arrived twelve minutes later, and were greatly mortified when told of the President's displeasthe Congressional Campaign Fund is Being Raised.

DEMOCRATIC REFORM.

New York, June 25 .- The Tribune's Washington correspondent says that the creation of the positions of Assistant Secretary of the Democratic Congressional Committee for ex-Congressman Phil. Thompson, of Kentucky, was explained vesterday by the appearance of that gentleman at the Capital soliciting contributions from Congressmen for the campaign fund. It is asserted, too, that he is engaged in soliciting like contributions from officers and employes of the House and in some executive deceiving political contributions from any Senator or Representative, or an officer, clerk or other employes of the Govern-
